

ARLINGTON SOLVES OWN PARKING PROBLEM

7 planes destroyed in $50,000 fire at Ravenswood Airport

Plane radio calls for aid from Orchard airport

A spark from a welder's torch early Tuesday afternoon set off a blaze at the Ravenswood airport, Touhy Avenue south of Mt. Prospect, which was not extinguished until five fire departments were on the scene and more than $50,000 damage had been done to planes and installations. Seven planes were destroyed.

DES PLAINES Fire department, the first to be called, was on the job in 15 minutes and did the major work. Next to arrive were Bensenville and Mt. Prospect volunteer fire departments, both of which went into action. Departments from Park Ridge and Orchard airport came later.

According to H. Marmel, manager of the field, the welder was working in the west hangar where seven planes were housed. All the necessary precautions were taken he said for protection.

"But in spite of all our precautions and the fact that we did this work here a thousand times before," he declared, "the thing happened. That's about all any of us know about it."

AS THE EASILY combustible materials ignited and the flames shot forth in all directions, the field personnel, equipped with fire fighting apparatus attempted to delay their spread until major fire fighting units arrived. Three planes were dragged out, but all burned completely.

Marmel got his call to Des Plaines just one minute before the telephone wires burned off. He then took a plane from the other side of the field aloft and signalled Orchard airport by two way radio, asking them to call for help. The airport officials called the other departments by telephone.

Des Plaines department pumped water from a drainage ditch, using 1400 foot of hose, and were busy for more than an hour. The quick response of the fire departments is said to have saved the entire Ravenswood airport and 30 other planes.

THIS IS THE first fire, according to officials, that Ravenswood Flying service has experienced. The service has about 40 planes in use and is giving instruction to 100 students. On its staff are three mechanics, three flying instructors and the office personnel.

'Cease fire', says Police Chief Skoog

The attention of Arlington Hts. police department was called this week to the efforts of some residents in the Euclid ave. area to rid their shade trees of starlings by using shot guns and rifles. In answer to a story in last week's Herald about the danger of air rifles, Charles C. Purvis (see Fence Post) has directed the attention of the police to the firing of real guns in his vicinity.

The police has ordered that firing cease and shot guns and rifles are both on the taboo list. "If use of water, as tried last year, with the cooperation of the fire department, was more effective than gun fire," says the chief. He hopes to try the same method this year.

High school asks for bids on grading new athletic field

An advertisement for bids for the grading of the new athletic field recently acquired by Arlington Heights township high school appears in this issue. The bids will be opened June 14th. Further plans for the future development of the field that will be chiefly used for intramural athletic events will be made later.

500 SEATS UNRESERVED FOR AHTHS GRADUATION

There are 500 unreserved seats for Arlington Heights township high school commencement Friday, June 4.

The bleacher seats at the high school are unreserved and are open to early arrivals on a first come, first served basis.

The program will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m.

Plan Legion annual youth parade Sunday

The ninth district of the American Legion will hold their 13th annual youth convention and parade at the festival grounds in Park Ridge Sunday afternoon, June 6. The playgrounds are located between Touhy and North-west highways in Park Ridge, 2 blocks west of the center of town. The parade is to assemble at 1:30 p. m. at the Roosevelt school located at Talcott road and Prospect to continue north to Northwest highway and west to the festival grounds. The time of march is 2 p. m.

Sixty units consisting of boys and girls in marching units, bands, drill teams, drum and bugle corps, R. O. T. C. and other special units such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Packs, Sea Scouts, Campfire Girls, and girl patrols will participate. This group represents the largest number of participants in the 13 years of this event.

All of the Posts of the Northwest Ninth District will wear their colors as they parade before their respective area units.

A special award is the much-sought-after Victor Pecchia memorial trophy which rotates among the first-place winners in all classes each year. In addition to the beautiful enameled individual participating pin, trophies will be presented to the first place winners, framed citations to the 2nd and 3rd place winners.

Recognition is given to all units whether they are directly connected with the activities of the American Legion. The only requisite of sponsors is that the group must be sponsored by an individual Post of the Legion.

The speaker of the day who will deliver his address after all units have been judged, is State Commander Douglass D. Getchell of the Department of Illinois, American Legion.

All persons desiring to witness an enjoyable afternoon of music, marching and drilling are invited to attend these exercises.

Tax offices close after last-minute tax-paying rush

Township collectors closed their offices this week after one of the most rugged collection periods in years.

Complaints about high taxes were many, and for three weeks it looked as if a tax strike were on the way.

Then came the final week and the collectors had the greatest rush they could remember. People apparently had "cooled off" and decided that taxes, like everything else, were up and had to be paid.

The local collectors were on the job until the final day and have now returned their books to the county treasurer's office.

A penalty on personal property bills and first installment of real estate bills went into effect Wednesday morning, June 2.

All such bills are now payable at the office of the county treasurer in Chicago.

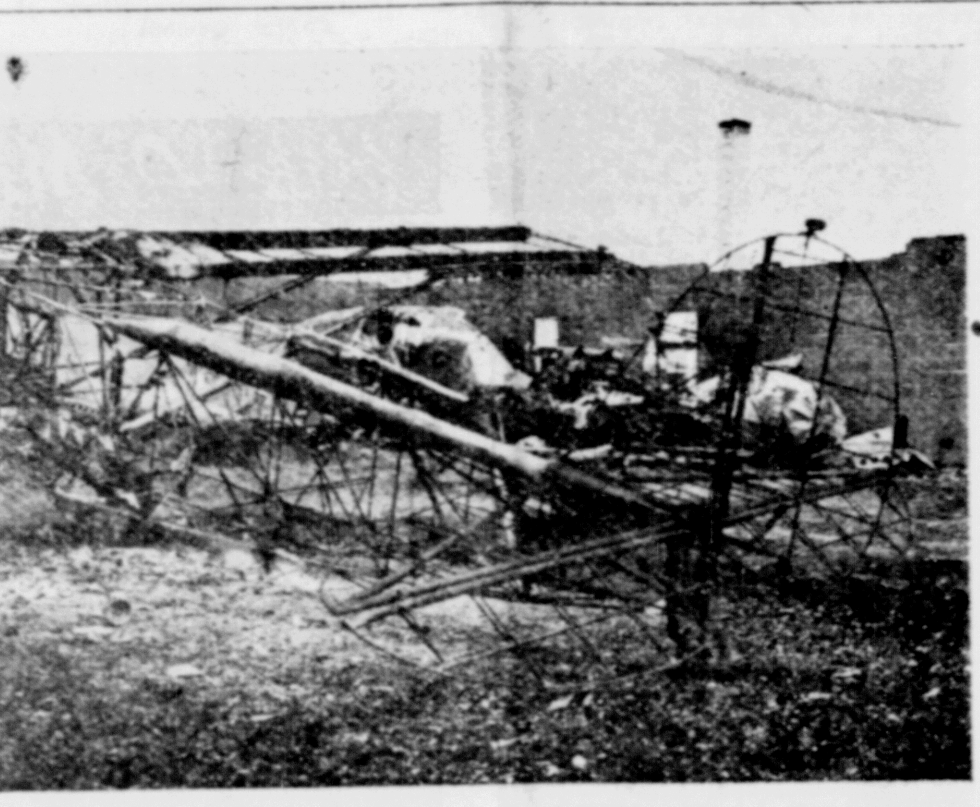

Local collectors will be back on the job during August for the collection of the second installment of real estate taxes, penalty date for which is September 1.

The local tax collectors wish to thank the public for cooperation during the tax-paying season. They tried to be as helpful as possible in explaining valuation rates and answering other questions.

The collectors are William Annen, Wheeling township; Albert Kraemer, Elk Grove township; and Thomas C. Hart, Palatine township.

Vandals destroy flowers, vases, ferns in cemetery

Families in Arlington Heights were amazed to learn Tuesday evening that vandals had destroyed flowers, vases and ferns placed on graves in the Arlington Heights cemetery. The police have been notified and it is hoped that the guilty parties will be caught and properly reprimanded.

The fire at Ravenswood Airport not only destroyed seven planes, but also the living quarters of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tucker who moved into the fuselage of a C-47 (in foreground above) two weeks ago. The fire not only destroyed the repair shop, but "jumped" the wall to ignite the large fuselage.

Release swim program details at Arlington

Arlington Heights park board recreational director F. C. Vokac this week announced plans for swimming instruction and activities at Recreation Park for the summer.

The pool or regular swimming time schedule includes 1:00 to 10:00 daily, with a break for supper between five and six o'clock. Group or free lessons will start at 1:30 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for beginners. Girls will be instructed by Mrs. Molly Espinhe, and the boys by Mr. Vokac. Sessions will last until 2:30.

TUESDAYS, Thursdays and Saturdays Mrs. Espinhe will give courses in senior and junior life saving for both girls and boys. Mr. Vokac will give group diving lessons for both boys and girls.

Those wishing to enroll in any of these courses may sign up June 14 at the fieldhouse. Information will be supplied by Mr. Vokac and Mr. Peters. If swimming response is favorable, an endeavor will be made to organize swimming teams to compete against neighboring towns in three age groups.

WATER BALLET will be divided into two groups, advanced and beginners, with practice starting at 11 a. m. daily Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Mrs. Esther Karstens will instruct the team, while Mr. Vokac will be in charge. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

If the class is of recognizable size, a number of exhibitions at neighboring pools will be scheduled. This activity has proven very successful in the past, and all youngsters are invited to join.

Also planned by the park district is a single water show composed of stunts, water ballet, diving, comedy and Red Cross life-saving. Date will be announced later.

Private swimming lessons can be arranged for through Mr. Vokac any time after June 15. Applicants for life guard and recreational assistants will be interviewed at 10 a. m. June 12 at the Arlington Heights fieldhouse.

Exact opening date for the pool and other activities will be announced later.

Contractors told 'ifs' and 'ands' of building permits

If you want to build a house in Arlington Heights these days, manual labor isn't enough.

Among other things, you have to seek out Building Commissioner Taeger and Streets Superintendent Becker, from whom you must secure three or four, and maybe more, assorted permits.

And you almost have to study two or three village ordinances stating what not to do when you push the first spade into the ground, or the police will "get you."

So discovered two defendants who appeared in Judge Neumann's police court Wednesday morning, June 2.

G. W. Konchar, 1016 Illinois, Arlington Heights, representing the K&K Excavating Co., admitted he did not have a permit to break the curb on a lot for excavating purposes.

"I didn't know I had to have one, your honor," he stated. He said he assumed the general contracting permit he secured from Commissioner Taeger covered the curb destruction, also.

"When I asked at the village hall if I had all the necessary papers, I was told to go ahead with the job," he added.

Village bars drainage from airport system

Dr. Piszczek, Cook county health officer, assured Paddock Publications Wednesday morning that promises had been given by Illinois Aircraft Sales and Service that repairs and installations will be made to the sanitary sewage system at the airport trailer camp that will remedy existing faulty conditions.

The lessees of the government-owned property have retained Mr. Fletcher, Des Plaines city engineer, to oversee the changes that are asked by the county board of health. The present sewage treatment system will have to be redesigned and enlarged.

THE NAVY department has disclaimed all responsibility for the operation of the trailer camp, which the county health department assumes puts its control into their hands. The department has been promised complete compliance with orders. The trailer camp will be given the chance to make good on promises before court action is taken.

Authorities of the village of Arlington Heights have taken no action, although an increasing number of residents are becoming alarmed at the danger of contagion and a possible epidemic. Children of the trailer camps have been accepted as pupils in the Arlington Heights elementary schools and the school nurse, Thelma Carroll, has inspected the camp. A nurse from Cook county health department has also visited the airport as well as engineers of Dr. Piszczek's office. Weekly inspection visits are being made.

IT IS NO secret that the method of sewage treatment under government control does not meet the state requirements. It is also no secret that the liquid overflow from the treatment plant flows into an open ditch.

During the period of government operation, the village allowed this matter to enter the village sewer system. When the airport was taken over by private persons, the connection was cut off by the village.

WOMEN interested in the maintenance of existing health standards in Arlington Heights, have offered to circulate petitions, asking the government to close the trailer camp.

'Shoo, fly!' program for suburbs to be launched in Arlington

A program to help rid the suburbs of flies will be launched June 3 and June 4.

The Thursday, June 3 meeting, will be held in Arlington Heights Township High School at 7:30 p. m.

The project, known as the Illinois Fly-Free program, will be supervised by the University of Illinois college of agriculture and the county farm bureau in cooperation with state agencies.

The program to rid the suburbs of flies will operate on two fronts, elimination of garbage and use of DDT, according to Dr. Edward Piszczek, Cook county health director.

"With the scientific use of DDT, there is no excuse for the existence of flies," the health director pointed out.

Although the program is primarily a disease fighting program, it will also be a real help to the farmer.

Charles Hughes, advisor to the farm bureau, stated that cows produce 20 percent more milk when not bothered by flies. A farmer who successfully rids his barn of flies could add from $75 to $100 a month to his income.

He said the program had proved its worth in Iowa, and farmers there need no urging to participate in the program.

According to Hughes, the city of Chicago, through its health department, was invited to participate, but he had received no reply yet.

All of the north and south suburbs have been invited to attend the Arlington Heights and Harvey meetings.

Commuter cars gone; traffic jams are no more

Yes, it is true! Arlington Heights' own parking system is now operating. When citizens reached the loop Saturday morning, new signs advised them that the "hour" had come.

Months had been spent in talk; there had been many columns of newspaper publicity; there had been heated

A. W. Bathje observes silver year of teaching discussions and interviews "for" and "against" parking meters while motorists became more and more angered as they drove through the congested business district looking for a place to park, and irritably said, "Something has got to be done about this."

SATURDAY it was a pleasure to drive through the loop and find ample room to meet another car and pass it; to find a place to park, and again find ample room to get between cars already parked.

There is no reason why, if enforced to the minute detail, the new Arlington Heights parking system should be a failure. Business men hope that the "hitching posts" won't be necessary in this "city of good neighbors."

Many a bewildered citizen pulled along the south side of the bank only to be met by the "No Parking At Any Time" sign, or the courteous voice of the police officer stating, "Sorry, but no parking on this side." It is believed that many received courtesy tickets for parking in prohibited areas, or for parking incorrectly. Next week the police officers start issuing real tickets to violators, playing no favorites.

A police officer is on duty throughout the business district of Arlington Heights, checking to see that people are parked correctly and that they do not overstay their one hour limit.

Commuters who drive to the railroad station are probably the only ones who are not benefited by the new parking rule. John has to leave the house five minutes earlier because now he has to park two or three blocks from the station. Don't mind that, John, they say walking is good for the constitution.

State road, as well as other side streets are now lined with commuters' cars. Additional parking lots are needed.

Commuters are accepting the new order of things in good spirit. All they ask is that those who do use the loop for justified parking obey the ordinance and that the ones who receive parking tickets accept them in the same spirit as the commuters who have been dispossessed from their former parking spots.

THE FINEST part of the new parking system is the absence of the blocks of little "hitching posts," more commonly known as parking meters. If Arlington Heights can solve its parking problems without the aid of meters, it will be to its credit and will probably be the envy of all the surrounding communities who installed meters after complete failure of other systems.

Paddock Publications has been asked by one of the commuters to invite other commuters to attend next Monday evening's meeting of the village board. Mr. Commuter is in hopes of getting sufficient recognition to have the south railroad park made available for commuters, by barring all night parking thereon.

Recover body of Palatine senior

The body of Edward Koval, who was drowned at a Palatine senior class picnic near Antioch last Wednesday, arose to the surface of the lake Tuesday morning. Efforts to recover the body by dragging the lake were abandoned Saturday.

An inquest was held Tuesday evening at the Strane funeral parlor by Coroner Leth of Waukegan. A verdict of accidental drowning was given. The remains were brought back to Palatine morning at the Tharp funeral home. Rev. Fetz officiated. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Fellow seniors who acted as pallbearers were Richard Pepper, Richard Steinbrink, Calvin Gaare, John Katrein, Wm. Schewolow and Henry Spoo.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 30, was:

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED"

The Golden Text was:

"He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son" (Rev. 21: 7).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy. . . . Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away" (II Tim. 3: 1, 2, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The necromancy of yesterday foreshadowed the mesmerism and hypnotism of today. . . . Erring human mind—forces can work only evil under whatever name or pretence they are employed; for Spirit and matter, good and evil, light and darkness, cannot mingle. Evil is a negation, because it is the absence of truth. It is nothing, because it is the absence of something. It is unreal, because it presupposes the absence of God, the omnipotent and omnipresent. Every mortal must learn that there is neither power nor reality in evil" (pp. 322, 186).

Raccoon coat, maybe!

When George Mohr of Arlington Heights spotted raccoon tracks on the Brockman farm several days ago, the hunt was on. Traps were set but were of no avail.

Finally on Tuesday evening George spotted the mother raccoon and her four babies up in a tree. He tried in vain to capture up such a fight that she had to be shot before the young ones could be taken.

Mr. Mohr intends to raise the babies, and who knows, maybe some day his wife will be strutting around in a new raccoon coat.

Final report on school consolidations are filed

Recommending a series of reorganizations which would reduce 56 of suburban Cook county's 159 elementary school districts to 18, the Cook County School Survey Committee filed its final report with the State Advisory Commission today. According to the Illinois Survey Act of 1945, it is mandatory for Cook County Superintendent of Schools Edward B. Simon to call an election for adoption within 9 months after June 1, 1948 in each of the proposed reorganizations.

Suburban Cook County is organized into 183 contiguous school districts whose boundaries do not follow those of the incorporated cities, villages and towns. Some of these districts operate elementary and high schools with a national reputation for efficiency and superior educational standards. The tradition is one of home rule with a determination to maintain this independence for the future. There is no county in the country comparable to it in school organization.

Elementary consolidation recommendations are as follows:

Barrington Township: Districts 10, Bruns; 42, Hilltop; 43, New Era; 4, Barrington Consolidated; 11, Lakeside.

Hanover Township: Districts 41, Lindberg; 43½, Hoosier Grove; 44, Washington; 45, Woodside; 48, Spaulding; 49, Bartlett; 50, Ontarioville.

Schaumburg Township: Districts 51, Sunderlage; 52, Maple Hill; 54, Schaumburg Center; 55, Hartmann.

Northfield Township: Districts 27, Northfield Gr.; 31, No. Northfield.

Palatine Township: The committee made no recommendations in Palatine township as the formation of Palatine consolidated school district 15 eliminated five rural schools. District 18 which is considerable distance from the village of Palatine will be allowed to remain as a single district.

Wheeling Township: Districts 20, village of Wheeling (21, Strong 22).

Districts 25 (Arlington) Forest View 56.

District 24 will be omitted for the present.

Prospect Heights and Feenhaven schools as well as the Wilson school district 24, will be allowed to remain as single operating districts.

One of the elementary school district consolidation seeks to recoup 12 sections of land for Community Consolidated District No. 1 of Cook County which were absorbed by Unit District No. 300 of Kane County by an election in March, 1948.

High school recommendations are limited to eliminating non-high territory in Hanover, Schaumburg, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palos and Bloomington. Fractional townships and small tracts of non-high territory which were inadvertently overlooked when regular high school districts were organized.

Generally speaking, the School Survey Committee proposed only such reorganizations as appeared to have a chance of adoption in the compulsory referendum to be called by the County Superintendent of Schools. The reorganization pattern as indicated by the map issued by the Committee discloses that most of the recommended consolidations are centered in the northwest and southwest sections of the county where there is a multiplicity of small districts in the less populated areas.

According to the final report's survey of suburban Cook County's schools in 1948, the enrollment in the elementary schools is on the upgrade while that of the high schools is decreasing. The present elementary enrollment is 71,076, showing an increase over last year's 67,527, while this year's high school population of 30,657 is a fall from 1947's 33,071.

Although the elementary and high school enrollments have shown a general decline from the high figures of the middle 30's, the number of regularly employed teachers has steadily increased. The elementary teachers have gone from 2,544 in 1935 to 3,002 in 1948 and the high school teachers for the same period of years have gone from 1,209 to 1,449.

Today, there are 159 elementary and 24 high school districts. There are 40 one-room, 16 two-room, 9 three-room, 27 four-room and 201 five-or-more-room buildings being used by suburban public schools. Four Junior Colleges with a total enrollment of 2,007 students are operating.

The Cook County School Survey Committee was elected in 1945 by the suburban school board members under the provisions of H. B. 406 of the Illinois Legislature. It has been its duty to make a survey for the purpose of school district reorganization and to publish its findings in tentative and final reports. The tentative report was filed in October, 1947 and it contained a series of preliminary recommendations for reorganization. Since that date and the filing of the final report June 1, the committee has conducted a series of public hearings in each of the proposed reorganizations for the sake of determining local opinions and desires. The final report is based on these as well as the Committee's research and the advice of educational, financial, social, and legal experts.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kirkeby 511 S. Elmhurst road, Mt. Prospect, Ill.

The Kirkebys came to Mount Prospect three months ago, after living in Park Ridge for 5 years. "Before we moved here, we considered California our home because we lived there longer than any other place," Doris Kirkeby told the reporter, "but now that we came to Mt. Prospect, we intend to stay here for a long time."

Mr. Kirkeby is a salesman for Liquid Carbonic company, Chicago.

Carol, the couple's 13-year-old daughter, graduated June 3 from Mt. Prospect public school. She is a campfire girl, and is interested in music and art. Carol has taken piano lessons for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Poole 200 S. Pine, Mt. Prospect, Ill.

The Pooles wanted to live in a northwest suburb, and chose Mt. Prospect when they made a final decision as to where they wanted a new home. Before they came here February 11, they lived in Rogers Park for five years, and Peoria for one year.

Susan, 8, is in the third grade at Mt. Prospect public school. She has a younger brother, Johnny, 3 years old.

Mr. Poole is a salesman for Burroughs Adding Machine Co., Chicago, where he has worked for eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Miller 718 S. Elmhurst road, Mt. Prospect, Ill.

Mr. Miller, who is "Ookie Miller" played professional football with the Chicago Bears from 1932 to 1937, is still in the sports field. As contact man for John T. Riddell Co., Chicago, he covers high schools and colleges throughout the Midwest for sports equipment sales.

Charles, 13, and Robert, 4, have one mutual hobby—football. Their favorite season of the year is fall, when Dad takes them to football games and they especially like to see the Bears in action.

Charles, who was graduated from Mt. Prospect public school June 3, is a Boy Scout. Young Robert, 4, will start school this fall.

Contractors

search for Taeg and Becker, "to check up on violations."

At the time of this writing, a general review of how to build a house, excluding manual work, would include:

1. Securing a general building permit from Commissioner Taeg, price of which depends on the value of the building to be erected. This is the permit that is tacked up on the site for view.
2. A water permit should be secured, price of which is $60.
3. A sewer connection permit must be received, also from Mr. Becker, the price of which is $2. If sewer is under the pavement, a filling permit costing $10 is required and a bond of $1,000 must be filed with the village clerk.
4. Under "no fee" permits, a builder must comply with Ordinance 708 relating to occupation of streets and parkways.

This ordinance requires a deposit of $1 a foot, or not less than $25 as surety that the street or curb will be replaced in previous condition; also a $10,000 bond against injuries that may result because of the presence of the material.

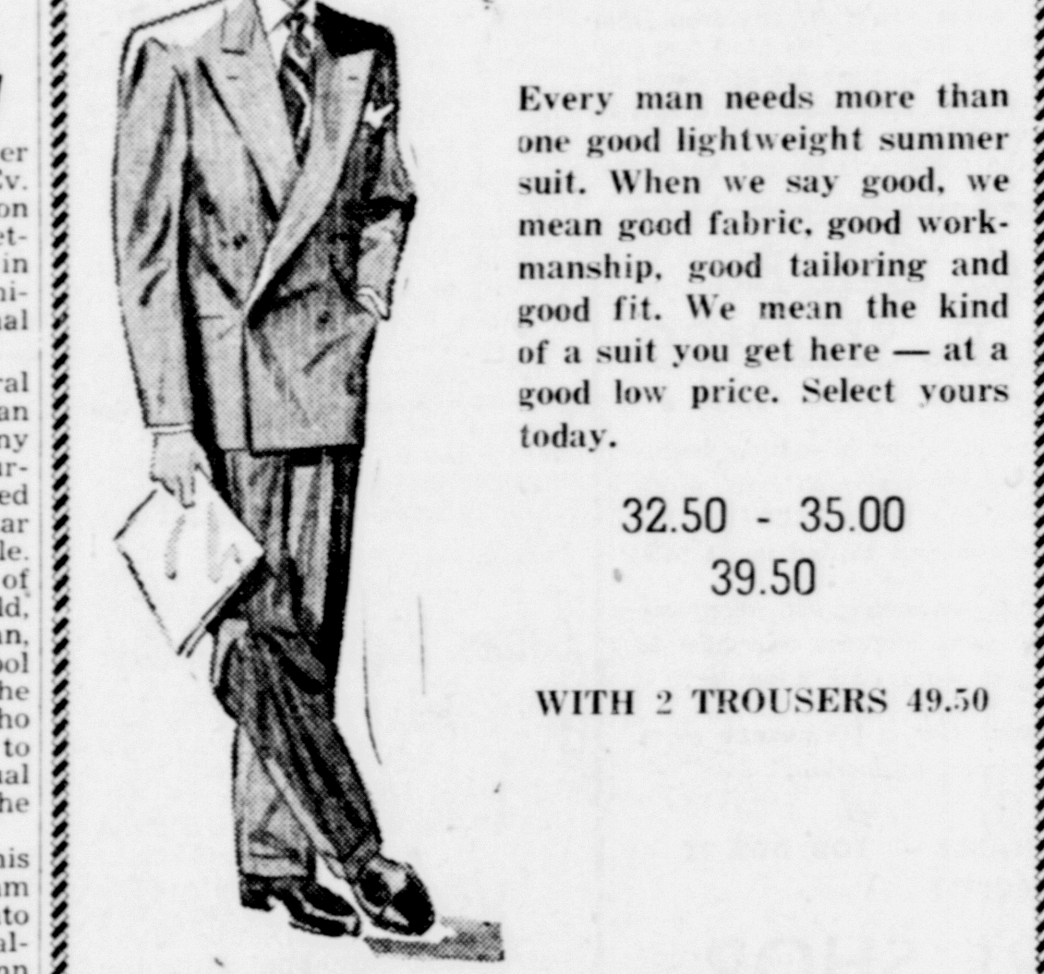

5. Permit must be taken out to break the curb for driveways. Sidewalks must be planked before trucks can pass over them.

6. Each trade engaged in the building construction must take out a business license good for one job or 500 jobs, as long as the work is finished during the calendar year.

For the convenience of the contractor, the building commissioner can authorize most of the permits required.

Village officials are not seeking to make it hard for contractors, but rather to protect existing property and the general public from damages that might occur by indiscriminate handling of building materials.

Evelyn Dobner, Robert Wagner are married

Miss Evelyn Dobner and Robert D. Wagner were united in holy matrimony by Rev. George Ballweber at the St. Mary's rectory, Buffalo Grove, May 22. Miss Dobner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dobner of Prairie View, and Mr. Wagner is the son of Edward F. Wagner, and at one time made his home with his sister, Mrs. Carl Jarmuth in Arlington Heights.

The bride chose to wear an ice blue satin gown for her wedding, which was styled with sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She wore an ice blue silk illusion veil, that was full length and trimmed in lace, and held in place with an orange blossom tiara. Her bridal bouquet consisted of white carnations and sweet peas. Mr. Dobner gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Alvira Borre, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor. She was dressed in pale yellow summer taffeta, that was fashioned with fitted bodice, having a bertha collar and full skirt. A colonial bouquet of blue carnations and sweetpeas, and a spray of blue carnations in her hair, put the finishing touches on her costume.

The bridegroom's niece, Verdel Jarmuth of Arlington Heights, and the bride's sister, Mrs. Rita Coppi of Highland Park, served as bridesmaids. They were gowned and carried flowers identical to the matron of honor's. All of the bride's attendants wore ice blue pearls, which were gifts from the bride.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Joseph Knittle of Des Plaines, with Francis Dobner, brother of the bride, and Fred Seitzmann of Northbrook, acting as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barre entertained 40 guests at their home for the wedding dinner at 5:30 in the evening. A reception was held later at the Wheeling community hall for 700 guests.

Graduate nurse

Marjorie Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Ford, Arlington Heights, is a member of the 1948 graduating class of nurses from the Illinois Masonic hospital, Chicago.

The exercises were held May 19 at the Scotch Rites Cathedral, N. Dearborn street, Chicago. Miss Ford has made no immediate plans for her nursing future.

June moon

The knot was tied; the pair were wed, And then the smiling bridegroom said Unto the preacher, "Shall I pay To you the usual fee today. Or would you have me wait a year And give you then a hundred clear, If I should find the marriage state As happy as I estimate? The preacher lost no time in thought To his reply no study brought There were no wrinkles on his brow; Said he, "I'll take three-dollars now."

Arlington Cafe open 7 days a week

Arlington Cafe is now remaining open Mondays, in addition to the other six days of the week. Monday opening will remain in effect until fall.

Amidst a beautiful floral setting in the sanctuary of St. John's Ev. and Ref. church Miss Ruth Helene Sellmer became the bride of Edwin R. Huber, last Saturday, at 7:00 p. m. Miss Sellmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sellmer, and Mr. Huber is the son of Mrs. E. Huber, all of Arlington Heights.

The solemn vows of marriage were repeated after Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel, who officiated at the service. During the ceremony Mrs. Mary Ann Lascke sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was decorated with palms and four large vases of stocks, gladioli, carnations and asters. Four candelabra adorned the front of the church, the center aisle being lined with candles, with an arch at the front of the aisle, through which the bride passed on her entrance into the church.

Mr. Sellmer gave his daughter in marriage. She chose for her wedding attire a gown of traditional white satin, that was made with fitted bodice and full skirt, ending in a long train. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and white orchids.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dolores Staat, who was dressed in a gown of yellow vel-ray, and carried a heartshaped bouquet of yellow carnations, which were outlined with lavender ribbon, from which lavender streamers

1948 Revue is highlight of AHTHS senior week

by JOAN RANDAG

"As we were, as we are, as we shall be," was the theme of the 1948 senior revue at Arlington high school.

Three skits with a kindergarten scene, a Big Freeze scene, and a political convention scene kept students and faculty entertained as they watched the mock history of the class of '48.

Representatives from senior homerooms who planned the revue were Andrea Kennedy, Douglas Schimmel, Ray Wilke, Bill Lancilotti, Bob Cubley and Pat Kule, and Joan Mors, general chairman.

Students decided to omit the customary senior will and prophecy since they were being printed in the Cardinal.

Miss Edith Lindsey was in charge of the "past," the kindergarten scene, with Pat Kule as helper. Patricia Peterson acted as teacher of a group of kindergarten, pigtails girls. Donny Dewey and Teddy Schulze took turns as occupants of the "Dunce Stool." The kindergarten class of 1936 was led in a song by Norman Spratt with a Tommy-gun for a baton and accompanied by Anne Lyman and her right index finger.

The next scene, the "present," under the supervision of Miss Louise Youngren with Ray Wilke and Dorothy Schlemmer as assistants, took place in the Freeze. This group was practicing for the senior revue of 1948. It included a trio, composed of Ingrid Schuergen, Jeanne Muller and Doris Meyer singing "Tool-me, Ooolie, Doolie" and "Beg Your Pardon."

Barbara Cryslar and Bill Lathen sang "Girl of My Dreams," with Bill helping along on the guitar. Robert Slottag played two popular songs on his accordion and Mary Jean Bentz gave a reading, "In the Usual Way." This scene ended as Ray Wilke announced a few news flashes from the F. M. broadcast of "Cardinals on the Air."

The final scene, the "future," directed by Mrs. Harold Anderson, portrayed the senior class 10 years from now at a Republican nomination convention in the Lewis Draper Jr. hotel, Chicago.

John Fellingham was chairman of the convention and Marv Berschet was sergeant-at-arms.

First speaker was Elinor Saudenbauer, a candidate of the Women's clubs of America, the W. C. T. U. and the P. T. A. Then Bill North orated, but his speech ended in a tragedy as two black cloaked figures darted forward and shot him down with water pistols. The third candidate was Leonard Dvoracek, an absent-minded professor who did a good deal of fast talk, (with the help of a fast spun record) and much gestulating. After his speech, delegates voted, votes were counted, and Robert Haberkamp made a triumphant entry, carefully stepping over the prostrate form of Bill North. Then the curtain descended.

The senior revue is an annual event at Arlington high taking the place of senior class night. It is part of the seniors' last week of activities, but it is the humorous event which the students and faculty enjoy. This year the revue was especially appreciated as the seniors were presented in their past, present, and future.

Pastors return from tour of bases in Orient

The Rev. Paul Mehl, pastor of St. Andrew's Lutheran church, last week returned to Park Ridge after a successful army-sponsored air journey to the Orient. With two other Protestant clergymen he made a study of the moral and religious ministrations of the army in the Pacific area.

In addition to traversing the length and breadth of the Japanese mainland, he also visited other islands in the Jap group, and Korea on the Asiatic continent. He returned home via Okinawa, the Philippines, Guam, and Hawaii, consulting with chaplains there. Pastor Mehl estimates he contacted 235 army, navy, and marine chaplains in his travels which covered 29,000 air miles, 3,200 miles by rail in Japan, one boat voyage, and many trips by automobile.

JUST PRIOR to departure for home the three clergymen were given a one-hour private audience with General Douglas MacArthur. The Allied supreme commander expressed himself as genuinely concerned about the spiritual welfare of the occupation troops and their families.

Throughout the 7-week tour the survey committee was impressed with the emphasis placed upon moral standards and religious needs of the troops while away from home. Every commanding general contacted showed a personal interest in the activities of the chaplains, and the chaplains readily admitted excellent cooperation from higher headquarters in providing the physical means for this work.

"IT IS GRATIFYING to observe how the army has recognized and administered to the spiritual needs of the troops," Rev. Mehl reported to the Chief of Chaplains in Washington. "The troops, and their dependents, require more than a place for weekly worship," he added, "and the chaplains, heartened by a sympathetic understanding on the part of the commanding officers, are performing an outstanding service to God and country."

Bridal shower

Miss Margaret Frank, Chicago, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Roy Albright of Arlington Heights last May 21. After the many lovely gifts were opened, the guests enjoyed cards, followed by a dessert luncheon.

Miss Frank will be married June 5 to Ralph Thunberg, brother of Mrs. Albright.

Origin of Father's Day
It was a mother who started "Father's day." She is Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Wash., a writer of Indian stories. Struck with the need for a day to honor father, and inspired by the love and sacrifices of her own dad, William Smart, a Civil war veteran, who raised his motherless family of six, Mrs. Dodd proposed the idea 32 years ago, in 1916.

Feed Them CRACKLETS

WHAT?

Cracklets are a complete nutritionally balanced ration for chicks.

Cracklets are made by the same formula as Starting Mash.

Cracklets contain a uniform blend of 17 fine quality food ingredients plus minerals.

Cracklets contain all the vitamins and minerals essential to health and growth.

WHY?

Chicks like to pick their food. Cracklets are irregular in size and shape and permit chicks to eat in a natural way.

Chicks will eat more when they can eat naturally—and the more they eat—the faster they grow.

Chicks will waste mash from the hoppers. Cracklets will cut down this waste.

Cracklets are palatable and reduce the tendency toward pastiness in eating.

HOW?

Feed Conkeys Chick Cracklets exactly like you would feed starting mash.

From hatching through the first 6 or 7 weeks, chicks should receive all the Cracklets they can eat. Supply plenty of drinking water. Once or twice a week sprinkle a little chick size grit over the Cracklets.

Through the 7th week the feed should be gradually changed from Cracklets to Conkeys Growing Mash or Conkeys Growing Cracklets.

What of 2,4-D?—Farm adviser Hughes gives some answers

This question is perhaps the most common one that is being asked by Illinois farmers today. The thrill of being able to kill weeds with almost a trace of a new chemical appeals to the imagination of everyone. Weeds have always been one of the farmer's greatest problems. Now, with the almost fantastic claims and promises made for this chemical, his interest in the new weed-killing magic has urged to white heat.

Unfortunately there are many questions about 2,4-D that cannot be answered today because of the relatively short time research institutions have had to develop factual information. And with the enthusiasms of hundreds of salesmen and the sincere desire of thousands of farmers to control weeds, it is inevitable that there are going to be some costly mistakes.

2,4-D is a selective weed killer that works wonders on such susceptible weeds as dandelion, cocklebur, morning glory (annual), plantain, ragweed, and backhorn with little or no damage to most grasses. But it can destroy both clover and alfalfa if not applied in the right way and in the correct amount. And under no circumstances should soybeans be sprayed until we have more information.

FOLLOWING are a few of the questions farmers are asking, together with the best answers now available to them:

1. What kind of 2,4-D shall I use? Three types of 2,4-D are commercially available. There are the metallic salt, which is sold in the dry form; the amine type, which is in liquid form; and the ester type, also a liquid. The content of the 2,4-D acid varies in different formulations, so it is necessary to use caution in making up the solution to be applied to various weeds.

2. Which of these chemicals shall I use? They are all effective, depending on the amount of the 2,4-D acid applied per acre. If you use a compound which the label states is 25 percent 2,4-D, you will need to use twice as much as if the label read 50 percent 2,4-D. Therefore, it is necessary to watch the formulation.

In general, the ester is faster acting than the other two and is likely to kill plants more quickly. The esters are in an oily type of carrier that probably causes them to stick to the foliage a little better, particularly when the weather is unfavorable. This means that they are more likely to injure crop plants, especially if an overdose is applied. The metallic and amine salts are similar in their action and probably can be used in the same proportion with an equal degree of danger or safety.

3. WHEN SHALL I spray my weeds? Research shows that weeds are most susceptible to 2,4-D when they are very small. However, it is well to delay applications on susceptible weeds until you are reasonably sure that all or most of the weeds have germinated and emerged. On many of the resistant perennials, make your applications at about bud or early-bloom stage to prevent the weed from producing seed.

4. How shall I apply the chemical? As a rule, 2,4-D will be applied as a spray and under pressure. The pressure will vary. The low-pressure, high-concentration type of equipment will apply from five or six up to ten gallons of liquid per acre at 20, 30 or 40 pounds of pressure. The 200- to 400-pound pressure equipment will apply 100 gallons or more liquid per acre. The latter is more likely to saturate all of the vegetation clear to the ground. You are therefore more likely to get complete and thorough coverage of all vegetation with it than with the lower pressure. The higher pressure may also be a greater hazard if you are spraying small grain in which clover or alfalfa has been sown, because more of the chemical is likely to be forced down to the accompanying legume growth.

5. HOW MUCH of the chemical shall I apply? The answer to this question depends to some extent upon the type of chemical you use, but chiefly upon the type of vegetation you have. Some weeds are very susceptible, and to 1/2 pound of 2,4-D acid per acre will practically wipe out a complete crop of these types. On the other hand, the more resistant weeds, such as perennial sow thistle, oxeye daisy, wild garlic, wild onion, etc., will require considerably more. When you are attempting to control weeds in small grains particularly if a legume, alfalfa, or clover is growing in the small grain, you should reduce the amount of chemical to a minimum. Under such conditions not more than 1/2 pound and preferably 1/4 pound of the 2,4-D acid per acre will generally be enough to prevent seeds from forming, if not to kill the more common weeds found in small grains. Perennial smartweed may be an exception, as it is considerably harder to kill.

6. Can I kill Canada thistle, bindweed, mustard, etc., in small grains? A single application of 1/4 or even 1/2 pound of 2,4-D acid per acre is not likely to kill thistles or bindweed completely, but if properly applied, it will burn the topgrowth and prevent these noxious weeds from going to seed.

7. IS THERE danger in spraying a grain field sown to alfalfa or clover? Yes, 1/4 pound of 2,4-D acid per acre is likely to be injurious, particularly if the chemical is forced down through the oat and wheat vegetation on to the clover. It may even reduce the stand so that it will not be profitable to leave it. It is important, therefore, to use a minimum amount of the 2,4-D acid per acre where clovers are grown in small grains.

8. What about pre-emergence spraying or cornfields? There is probably no problem that is of greater interest to the cornbelt farmer today than this one. Unfortunately, results to date have been too erratic to make a definite recommendation for all conditions. Apparently some in-breds are quite susceptible to injury from 2,4-D, while others seem to be more tolerant. In most instances pre-emergence spraying of corn has not materially reduced the stand. The corn has usually come through the treated soil quite satisfactorily. The effect on subsequent growth and production seems so controversial that it is not possible to make a positive recommendation on this practice at present. It seems best to advise you to try out pre-emergence spraying on a small area or in a very small way. Do not go all-out and take a chance on a large acreage.

9. CAN I SPRAY my cornfields and avoid cultivating, or at least reduce the number of cultivators? Results at the University of Illinois and a number of other corn-belt institutions, and on farms in a number of locations last year, indicate that there is a possibility of spraying cornfields after the corn is eight inches to a foot high, or even two feet. Spraying will apparently materially reduce weeds in the field, but it will not affect the grasses. Direct the spray on the soil; keep it off the corn as much as you can. To spray properly, adjust your equipment to make the spray cover the soil rather thoroughly, but not to get too much of the 2,4-D on the leaves or stalks of the corn plant. The nozzles should be below the level of the corn leaves, and they should be so adjusted that the spray will cover the ground uniformly.

10. What about spraying fencerows? 2,4-D will be used on thousands of farms throughout the corn belt this year in an effort to avoid the hand-mowing of fencerows and to prevent some of the more serious weeds from going to seed. This chemical has wonderful possibilities for this use and should be a great boon on most farms. One thing to remember in using 2,4-D along fencerows, is that the concentration will likely be stronger, particularly if there is any brush, than it would be out in the field. Therefore, the drift of the spray from fencerows to susceptible plants, such as soybeans, clover, alfalfa, etc., could be very serious. It is important, therefore, to direct the spray at the vegetation in the fencerow and to minimize the danger of drift as much as possible.

11. WILL 2,4-D KILL buckbrush and other woody plants? 2,4-D has been found to be effective in defoliating and killing many of the woody plants. A single application of the spray cannot be expected to eliminate large shrubs or trees, but it will be effective in killing wild cherry, Japanese honeysuckle, willows, elderberry, locust, poison ivy, wild grape, etc. Osage orange, ash, oak, and evergreens are reported to be more resistant. In most cases a single application will not destroy shrubs and woody plants, but repeated applications of fairly concentrated dosages will usually be effective.

12. Can 2,4-D be used in pastures? Yes, it is not poisonous to livestock. The value of many Illinois pastures can be materially increased by killing pasture weeds with 2,4-D. Caution: 2,4-D will probably also kill or damage any legume growing in the pasture. The mowing machine still a good implement to prevent pasture weeds from going to seed and should be used where the pasture contains a good stand of alfalfa, sweet clover, or other legume. Patch-spraying of small patches of Canada thistles and other perennial weeds with a klapsack sprayer is a possibility where there is a good stand of legumes in the pasture.

IAA opposes federal soil control bill

Calling for a greater degree of local control of soil conservation activities, the Illinois Agricultural Association voiced strong opposition to the National Land Policy Bill. Hearings are now being held on the bill by the house committee on agriculture in Washington.

The National Land Policy Bill provides for the coordination of soil conservation activities under a new agricultural resources administration responsible to the secretary of agriculture.

STRONGEST objection to the bill by the IAA is contained in this statement made recently by IAA Vice President F. E. Morris of Sangamon County, before the house committee on agriculture: "We believe that this bill provides for too much centralization of control in the secretary of agriculture over the various agricultural programs dealing with conservation, improvement and development of agricultural land and water resources."

"We have carefully studied the various proposals to coordinate activities in the field of soil conservation. Years of experience have convinced us that the most successful governmental programs dealing with agriculture have been those which are decentralized and have a maximum of local control."

Corn borer may not be bad in Cook county

From reports coming in we do not expect too bad corn borer infestation in Cook county except in the early sweet corn. "Hatching seems to be earlier than last year which is good and most corn was planted at a rather favorable time," says Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes from reports received. It seems most damage will be west of here.

Never in the eight year history of the Northeast-Northwest frosh-soph track meet has there been a year with as fine records as were set at Arlington Hgts. last week on Wednesday evening. In all there were eight new records in 13 events. Marks in every running event except the 880 were smashed. Niles won both frosh and soph relays for 20 points to pass up Arlington Hgts. and win the meet. Leading in the freshman relay, Arlington dropped the baton on the final exchange and finished out of the points. Crystal Lake was third.

Gordon Busse, versatile Arlington sophomore accounted for 15 points and three new meet records. Busse broad jumped 21 feet 1/2 inch, ran the 100 in :10.5 and the 220 in :23.8 for the most outstanding individual performance in the history of the meet. August Krause, Arlington broke the low hurdle record of :13.2 by posting a :12.8 mark in the preliminaries.

Niles takes both relays to win meet

Raywood of Crystal Lake, double hurdler in high jump and high hurdles set a new record in the latter event with a :09.3 mark erasing one of :09.7 set by Heiniger of Niles two years ago. Deslories, also of Niles, ran a :54 flat to cut eight tenths of a second off the old mark. Niles made it three records for their school for the evening by cracking both relay marks. Niles first year team of Ronald Gowreys, Russell O'Grady, Donald Berg, and Donald Walter ran a 440 in :48.2 to make the old mark of :48.4 look slow in the comparison. Jack Deslories, Dick Lange, Marvin Johnson, and James Kennedy broke the soph relay mark by four tenths as they put a new mark of :47.4 on the record books.

August Krause was second high scorer of the meet with a first and a tie for two seconds for 14 points. Raywood of Crystal Lake with 10 points was third.

Northeast schools dominated the meet. Palatine with 9 1/2 points was high among the three Northwest schools. Best Northwest performance was a tie for second in the pole vault by Barker of Bensenville first and was run over on the first curve and in the half mile but got up and finally finished a strong third. Loeval of Palatine had a tie for third in the low hurdles and Ellis got a fourth in the 880 and Ross a fifth in the discus. Brandt of Barrington was fourth in the 440 and Frey a third in the broad jump. Palatine was fourth in the soph relay and Barrington in the fourth and Bensenville fifth in the frosh event.

MAC SAYS

Track season is over with Arlington and Palatine taking their respective conference meets and Niles winning the combined frosh-soph championship. Baseball is also nearly over. Niles took the northeast undefeated and played brilliant ball to advance to the semi-finals of the state tournament. Bensenville has the northwest sewed up for their third championship in four years.

Former Palatine athletes make good

We were pleased to note in the summary of the Big nine track meet that Klaus Timmerhaus took fifth in the mile for Illinois. He still holds the Northwest mile record and his competitive spirit in track has always made him one of the boys we have been proud to have coached.

"Bucky" Harris, another of our boys, will have a job this summer as a boys camp counselor in northern Minnesota. Harris won a basketball letter at the University of Iowa this past season when the Hawkeyes took second in the Big Nine.

Bergstrom to Bradley

Art Bergstrom, former successful Libertyville high school coach has been given the job of head grid coach at Bradley Tech next year. Bergstrom left Libertyville to direct the gridiron team at Decatur last fall and lost but one game in a town noted for weak football teams. It is a big promotion for Bergstrom to big time college coaching, but one that we feel is well deserved. Art Bergstrom is a fine coach and a swell fellow.

Mental attitude a big factor in golf

Golf is a crazy game in many ways. It takes so little to get off ones game and the more concerned one becomes concerning his shortcomings the worse game he plays, and then when things go right he may burn up the course. No better example of inconsistency in playing has come to our attention than the case of Bill Ziska at Inverness last Monday. Playing in the holiday morning hanoicap tournament, Bill shot a 97. In the afternoon he turned around and carded a 78 by shooting the back nine in a one under for 36.

Pro-amateur golf exhibition at Inverness

Next Sunday Inverness charity will benefit in the sale of tickets for the pro-amateur golf exhibition at Inverness in the afternoon. The exhibition involves Hick, amateurs versus Ernie Hicks, amateurs versus Junior Hicks, professionals is open to the public at $1.20 a ticket, good also for a day at the Victory National tournament at Midlothian June 17 to 20. It is a project worthy of support.

White Sox can use college stars

Being a Sox fan we were pleased to note that Fred Young in the Bloomington Pantagraph predicts that Marv Trubblatt of Illinois, and Jack Weisenburger of Michigan will shortly join the White Sox. Those Sox certainly do need some help and badly.

Cards down Woodstock in league final

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Arlington Heights high school varsity baseball team ended its conference season in good fashion last Thursday, when it outslugged a Woodstock nine and won a 10-4 decision on the home field.

Chuck Fischer started on the mound for the Cards, but it was not his day, and he was yanked in the first frame, having walked two, allowed 2 hits, 2 runs, and gotten only one man out. Chuck Johnson relieved Fischer with men on first and second, and the first man to face Johnson, Behler, connected for a double, sending both of the runners in with these runs also being charged to Fischer. From that point on Johnson pitched shutout ball, with the Blue Streaks getting a total of 2 hits besides Behler's, singles in the fifth and in the sixth, and two walks, while he set down ten men on strikes.

EDDY PITCHED the first 5 innings for Woodstock, walking three, striking out 6, allowing 11 hits and 10 runs. Behler pitched the final inning, holding the locals scoreless, but giving up 1 hit, walking 2, and fanning two.

Woodstock's lead held up in the fourth inning and in that inning with the tying run already across for Arlington, Marv Berschet, the hitting star of the day with four for four, sent a game-clinching homer over the left fielder's head to give the Cards a 5-4 lead. The locals added 5 more insuring runs in the fifth to sew up the ball game for good with a 10-4 count.

This gave Arlington a final conference record of 5 wins and 3 losses and second place in the conference.

Arlington ends season with Northbrook loss

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

A tough Northbrook high school baseball team captured its second victory of the year from the Arlington nine last Friday, but the Vikings won the game in a rather lazy fashion as seven of their runs were unearned, and they were out hit 9 to 7, but still came out on top of the end of a non-conference game at Arlington by an 8-3 count.

This game officially ended the season for the Arlington squad and Coach Wally Grace's boys came away with a total of eight wins against six losses, including a 5 and 3 conference record, good for second place.

In the Northbrook-Arlington contest, the Vikings led off the first inning with 3 runs on two hits, a walk, and two errors. Worrall drove in Bob Wiest, who led off with an infield hit, and Gene Lesch, who was safe on an error, and Schildgen tallied the third marker, after walking, on Koepfer's error, groundier.

HOWEVER, the locals tied it up in their half of the inning on 4 hits, a walk, and a fielder's choice. Ron Obermann got the big blow of the inning, a sharp single that drove in both Bill Lancillotti and Lloyd Meyer from third and second respectively. Bill Robinson scored the tying run on Bill Wiest's hit.

From that point on, it was the Vikings' game all the way as the locals made error after error. The visitors tallied 3 more runs in the third on 2 hits and an error, and 2 markers in the fourth on one hit and two errors, to win the game by a substantial 8-3 margin.

Floyd pitched the whole game for the winners, fanning eight and walking two. Robinson started for the locals and gave

Plan reorganization of Northwest towns Sportsman's club

Plans for the reorganization of the Northwest Towns Sportsman's club are now underway. The president, Max Warson, announced this week that there would be a meeting June 9 at the Arlington Heights Legion hall, at 8:30 p. m.

The club has been inactive during the war and would now like to have the members who dropped out at that time return and help the club become active again. All men interested in sports are invited to attend.

The Wednesday night meeting will be complete with entertainment and refreshments.

Chick Evans, 3 other golf stars to play in Inverness exhibition

Golf exhibitions by four amateur and professional golf personalities will highlight a veteran's day golf tournament at Inverness golf course, Palatine, Sunday, June 6, at 2:30 p. m.

The local golf show will be one in a series of similar golf tournaments staged over the country this month for the benefit of hospitalized war veterans.

Chick Evans, "king of amateurs," will be one of the featured golf artists at the Inverness exhibition. Several of his noted golf victories are National Open and National Amateur champion of 1916, the first player ever to combine those titles in a single year; Western Open of 1910, the only amateur ever to capture that title; National Amateur in 1920.

In 1916, he refused to turn professional. He led and participated in the first nationwide series of exhibition matches, a series that netted more than $250,000 for the Red Cross in World War I.

The other amateur golf star of the day will be Hunter Hicks, of Inverness. Jock Hutchinson, of Skokie Country club, and Ernie Ball, of Oak Park Country club, will be the two professional golf artists at the exhibition.

Bud Howland, of Inverness, is chairman of the local exhibition games. Inverness members and guests will stage a handicap tournament, with prizes in three classes. Entry fee for the handicap event will be one of the $1.20 entrance tickets.

Announce 'best card' for Chicago Bears

The Chicago Bears have carded the finest and most attractive schedule in their history for Wrigley Field next fall. Six outstanding National Football League rivals will put in an appearance on the northside gridiron in 1948, thus assuring local football followers the very tops in competition.

Besides the regular Western Division foes, Green Bay, the Cardinals, Los Angeles Rams and Detroit, two powerful Eastern teams, the New York Giants and Washington Redskins, are on the Bears' new home schedule.

The six games carded for Wrigley Field next fall are as follows:

- Oct. 10 Los Angeles Rams
- Oct. 17 Detroit Lions
- Oct. 31 New York Giants
- Nov. 14 Green Bay Packers
- Nov. 28 Washington Redskins
- Dec. 12 Cardinals

Rascher leads Cards to golf trophy in NE

By MARVIN PRELLBERG

Led by big Vern Rascher, who became the Northeast Conference golf medalist by posting a 74, Coach Curtis Larsen's Arlington duffers came through last Thursday on the Mount Prospect links with a hot day and annexed the Conference title onto their already good record by out shooting the second-place Crystal Lake team by 30 strokes to win with an amazing 307 stroke total.

The four man Cardinal team went around the par 70 lay out in an average of 76.75 strokes per man, an average which would most likely be tops in the state. Rascher toured the first nine in 39 but came back with a par 35 on the second for his 74. He was followed by Tom Stockdale who posted a 39 and a 37 for a 76, Marv Prellberg who notched a 38 and a 39 for a 77 total, and Ralph Becker who carded a pair of 40s for an 80.

THE LAST three boys on Arlington's winning team are juniors and should produce some very fine golf next season.

Crystal Lake came in the second spot with a team total of 337, an average of 84 strokes per man. Jim O'Connor carded an 82, Morris Wade an 85, Tom Babcock an 85 and George Krause an 85 for the Lakers' total. Niles was third with a 341 total, and Leyden fourth with 345.

Wheeling Cardinals split two games

Last Wednesday the Wheeling Cardinals softball team played their usual brand of softball by losing, 6-0, to the Arlington Heights team. Emmet Doyle, Hase-man's pitcher, held Wheeling to two hits, both by Wickersham. Chuck Hull was again on the mound for the Cardinals.

However, last Sunday night at Libertyville, Wheeling came to life and won a beautiful game, 7-6, from Long Lake. It was a wonderful game from the spectators' viewpoint, but for the Cardinals it was a game of high tension all the way. Vern Koepfen, the Wheeling pitcher, again pitched a good game and ended the game himself by striking out the last batter with the bases loaded and a three and two count on the batter.

Lighted softball field grand opening this Friday at Barrington

A special exhibition game between Racine and Waukegan, both of the National Softball league, is carded for this Friday night, June 4, at Barrington's northside park. Occasion is the grand opening of the new lighted softball diamond with game time pegged at 8:30 p. m.

Locals beat Wauconda twice and Barrington

Bensenville high school's baseball squad continued their quest for a championship last week when they walked away with two games from Wauconda, and outscored Barrington, 5-1. The doubleheader with Wauconda found Coach Meneguini's boys winning 14-3 and 15-0.

In the opening contest Wednesday of last week the locals scored in every frame until the game was called the middle of the fourth. Bisons notched one run the first, added six the second and fourth, and pushed across three in the third.

SCORING four runs and getting three hits, Jimmy Holmstrum led his mates in the opener. Two of his blows were a homer and a triple. Thollander carded a triple and double, and DesLauries two doubles in the abbreviated contest.

Steffensen pitched for the DuPage county team, fanning eleven. Jacker struck out three and walked one for Wauconda. The losers were granted just one hit.

SECOND GAME was a continuation of the first, the Bisons garnering eight and seven runs in the first two frames. Game was called at the end of this period.

Holmstrum stretched his string to five safeties in a row, including a three-bagger. Thollander counted for doubles twice, as did Vulgar. Steffensen notched one two-bagger.

Thollander did the tossing for Coach Meneguini, fanning five batters of the eight who faced him. Osinski struck out four for Wauconda.

BARRINGTON took on Bensenville Friday, and emerged knocked best, 5-1. The locals secured in two runs the opening inning, then added one more in each of the next three frames.

Holmstrum hit safely the sixth and seventh times in a row, before failing the third time up in the Bronx contest. Thollander's bat, as well as his arm, aided the Bensenville cause as he knocked out two triples and a single.

Holmstrum hit safely to start the game, and went to second on Mueller's sacrifice. Thollander's triple brought the first score, and Bob Tallier on Steffensen's fly to center field. Des Lauries immediately hit a three-bagger, but to no avail.

SECOND inning found Tomcheff hitting safely, then going to second on an error. He scored on Holmstrum's single.

Thollander knocked another triple the third frame, and scored on a long fly by Steffensen to McNichols in right. Then, in the fourth, with two down, Tomcheff went around the bases on errors.

Hick struck out eight for the losers, and knocked out a two-bagger for his own record, and one of the two hits his mates counted. Thollander fanned ten.

If a vote were taken among hook-and-line fishermen — including small boys and grandmothers as well as wealthy sportsmen — the sunfish and their near relatives, the black bass and the crappies, would be elected the first family of American waters. Because of the similarity of their anatomy, these kinds are lumped together by fish scientists and called the Sunfish family. More members of this family are caught on a hook, each year, in the United States, than all other kinds of fish put together.

Thirteen species are regularly found in Illinois: three kinds of black bass, two kinds of crappies, the rock bass, the warmouth bass, and six of the smaller deep-bodied kinds, of which the bluegill is largest and best known. They range in size from the largemouth black bass — a 10 lb. 6 oz. prize winner was caught near Danville, Ill., a few years ago — down to the gaudy little orange-spotted sunfish which seldom weighs a half-ounce. All except the three black bass are distinctively and brilliantly marked.

IN THE SUNFISH family the job of raising the young is done by the male. In late spring or early summer he builds a "nest" — a saucer-like depression hollowed out on the soft mud or sand or gravel bottom, usually in fairly shallow water. Then he brings to it a mature female. She lays her eggs and swims away. Her job is done. The male fertilizes the eggs and stays there to fan fresh water over them and drive away hordes of would-be marauders until the young hatch and are able to take care of themselves.

Some sunfish, notably the blue gill and the pumpkinseed, live largely on plant food but most species are meat-eaters, devouring insects, worms, crayfish and fish smaller than themselves. Of the thousands of young hatched from the egg laid by each female, very few, if any, survive to reach maturity.

Ela outcores Antioch 11-2

Ela high school assured itself of no worse than a 500 finish in Northwest conference baseball Tuesday when they took their sixth win, as against four losses. They outscored Antioch, 11-2. Geary and Wendt collared two blows apiece for the Bears, while the Sequoias were held to two safeties.

In order to give the young men interested in these appointments equal opportunity to qualify, Congressman Church arranges with the Commission to hold these competitive examinations when there are vacancies. The examinations will be held in Cook county at Chicago, Evanston and Barrington; and in Lake county at Barrington, Highland Park, and Waukegan.

All candidates must be actual residents of the 13th District, of sound physical health and good moral character, and must be not less than 17 nor more than 21 years of age (on April 1, 1949 for the Naval Academy and July 1, 1949 for the Military Academy.) The 13th Congressional District is composed of the townships of Barrington, Elk Grove, Evanston, Hanover, Leyden, Maine, New Trier, Niles, Northfield, Palatine, Schaumburg, Wheeling, and that part of Northbrook Township west of the

Among the cadets graduating from the United States Military Academy this June, is Lyle E. Walter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Walter, 340 W. Chicago avenue, Palatine. Walter graduated from Palatine high school and later attended Central WMCA college, Chicago, and Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., and was in the U. S. army while there, attending Army Prep school. He received an Army appointment to the Academy.

Hot rod racing at Aurora Friday nights

According to demands from sports fans, Manager Erwin Dygert announced that a series of Hot Rod races will be held at Aurora Downs starting with a big inaugural event Friday, June 11, and regularly every other Friday night thereafter.

Top Hot Rod races from the Milwaukee, South Bend and Soldier's Field circuit will make their appearance in a seven event card with time trials beginning at 6:30 p.m. and the first race getting underway at 8:30.

The meet is sanctioned by the Hurricane Hot Rod Association for championship points. Drivers are limited to stock roadsters, stripped of fenders, lights and bumpers, but with souped-up motors averaging up to $3,000 in value and with a top speed around 120 miles per hour.

SUES FOR DEATH

In the Superior court at Chicago Anna Henders, administratrix of the estate of the late Harry J. Henders, has sued the Chicago & Northwestern railroad company for $120,000 for causing his death. He was a freight conductor and on December 15 while in the train caboose near Des Plaines, took a drink from a jug supposed to contain water. Instead it held a poisonous liquid that caused his death December 20. The road is charged with negligence by having such stuff accessible where it could be mistaken for drinking water.

center line of Canfield road, in Cook county, and all of Lake county.

Letters of application to take the competitive examination should be addressed to Congressman Ralph E. Church, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. The applicant should designate where it would be most convenient for him to take the examination. Candidates temporarily absent from the 10th District may be examined elsewhere, at examination points where the Civil Service Commission maintains an office or examiner. Letters of application must be postmarked before midnight, June 13th.

Poole Fords again in Legion ball

With more than 100 teams already enrolled, the Cook County Council of the American Legion is preparing for its most successful junior baseball program in the 22 years that the Legion has sponsored the activity.

Walt Wessman, county athletic chairman of the Legion, announced play would begin June 15 in the nine Legion districts in the county. The district winners will be determined by July 15 and then meet for the county title.

The Cook County champion, expected to be named July 25, will collide with the downstate finalist, probably at Springfield, in a three-game series, July 31-Aug. 1-2, for the state crown. The victor will go on into the national playoffs.

Meanwhile, a second-half series will continue locally, starting July 19 and ending Aug. 14. Playoffs will be conducted Aug. 16-25 to choose a county representative to meet either Detroit or Milwaukee in an inter-city series.

Wessman revealed that this year again the Ford Dealers of Cook county were assisting the Legion with equipment allotments.

To be eligible for Legion junior baseball, a player must have been born after Jan. 1, 1931. Further information can be had from Wessman, 145 S. Oak Park ave., Oak Park, or his assistant, Joseph Wilcox, 4541 Sheridan rd.

In the Legion's Ninth District (in your circulation area), 12 teams will participate in the junior baseball play.

The Arlington Heights Post team will again be directed by Don Peters and this outfit is expected to be a strong contender for district honors.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of our dear son and brother, Austin B. Buncik, M. M. 3c, who gave his life for his country four years ago, June 6, 1944.

The silent night is lonely and there is no golden dawn. Because we must remember son, that you are really gone. We still remember in our hearts the happiness we knew. The many pleasant times we had. When we went out with you. There is no joy and happiness in flowers that we plant. And if we call your name we hear the sound of emptiness. We roam the house from room to room. We gaze beyond as far as we can see. But there is nothing we can do. To bring you back to our family. We have to tell ourselves again. That you are really gone. And we can only ask the Lord. For strength to carry on. But you're not alone in that grave over the sea. For there's where our hearts will always be. Loving Father, Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

Lack of info' delays vets' claims and pay
Delays experienced by veter-ans or their dependents in se-curing benefits is oftentimes caused by lack of information in the files of the agency having jurisdiction over a claim.

Every veteran will find it an advantage to have data neces-sary for the processing of a claim in a place where it is readily accessible so that service can be given quickly when an emergency arises.

The Illinois Veterans Commission, a state agency with an office in every county of Illinois and 20 in Cook county, main-tains a free recording service for the convenience of the veteran or his dependents so that speedy reference is possible at all times.

EVERY VETERAN should reg-ister with his local IVC service officer giving information nec-essary to complete the records. A copy of this record is for-warded to the central office in Springfield where it is entered in permanent files.

By having these records a ser-vice officer can check and de-termine whether the veteran or dependents are receiving maxi-mum benefits and ascertain if pertinent evidence has been submitted such as marriage re-cords, birth certificates of chil-dren and proof of dependency of parents.

Increases in subsistence al-lowances is dependent, not upon whether a veteran is married, has dependent parents or chil-dren, but rather whether the proof of dependency is actually on file. Emergency hospitaliza-tion cannot be obtained unless someone certifies that the applicant is a war veteran. Service of-ficers can do this when their records reveal such information.

In Cook county the IVC ser-vice officer is Walter S. Haynes. He is ready to give every veter-an this valuable service with-out cost. The office is located at 41 So. Prospect ave., in Park Ridge.

Go ahead with vets' housing plans at Des Plaines
Ted Napier, president of the Veterans Homes, Inc., local or-ganization working on the pro-ject to construct housing for veter-ans in Des Plaines, announced that the group held a final meet-ing to settle details about the project.

On June 8 papers will be signed conveying 12 acres of land (located west of River road be-tween Howard and Touhy ave-nues) to the Cook County Hous-ing Authority, which body will in turn reassign it to the local Veterans Home's corporation. Price paid for the property was $140 per lot.

Potential debt to be incurred by this project will be from $300,000 to $500,000.

Financing institutions consult-ed in the matter will not finance this project unless the properties are purchased outright by GIs. The GI then shall rent half of this duplex to another GI. Prob-able selling price on the propo-sed 54 duplex units is $10,000 for the building. Suggested rental price on the units will be $45 per month. In other words, there will be 54 double units sold at $10,000, and 54 units available for GIs to rent.

Storage of Foods
Raisins, rice, powdered sugar, brown sugar, navy beans, and other such foods which are kept on hand in small quantities are most easily stored in fruit jars; thus the contents can be seen at a glance. Also, dry foods are kept dry and moist food moist.

Taxpayer's nightmare, or how to die for old U.S.

Henry Suburban reaches out at 7 a. m. of a bright June morning to turn off the alarm clock (price: $5 plus $1.10 tax). Accompanied by the trebling of birds, he climbs wearily out of bed (price: $195 plus $3.90 sales tax plus personal property tax), walks across the floor of his $8,000 house (annual general property tax, $220), and switches on the electricity (33c tax on his $10 monthly bill) which lights the bulb (price 20c plus 1c federal tax plus 1c sales tax).

To music from a bedroom radio (price: $30 plus $3.60 tax), Henry shaves with his electric (see above) razor. As a radio newscaster reports that Henry's local taxes have reached new peaks, Henry slaps across his jowls a handful of bay rum (price: $1.30 plus 24c tax).

HE DRESSES quickly, hurriedly fastening cuff links (price $3.50 plus 77c tax), and tie clasp: $1.50 plus 33c tax), puts on his Swiss wrist watch (price: $60 plus $13.20 tax not counting customs duty), and rushes downstairs. Tucked under one arm is a leather briefcase (price: $18 plus $3.96 tax) which carries papers from his real estate office, including one deed (property valued at $3,000; stamp tax $3.30).

In the kitchen, he's just in time to snatch two slices of bread from the electric toaster (price: $16 plus $3.52 tax), lift his coffee from the gas stove (price: $190 plus $22.80 tax), and grab a glass of fruit juice from the refrigerator (price: $300 plus $36 tax).

A GLANCE out of the window shows it's raining, so he calls to his wife (marriage license, $1) to telephone (monthly bill: $12 plus $2.05 tax) for a taxi. Too many other people want taxis on a wet morning so Henry gets out his own car (price: $1,800 plus $103 federal tax plus $36 sales tax plus state license of $10.50 plus city wheel tax plus tax of 5c on each pound of a new tire plus tax of 5 per cent on each new part or accessory plus state and Federal tax of 4½c per gallon) and drives (operator's license: 50c) to the railroad station.

Henry relaxes at the station with a cigarette (price per pack: 9c plus 10c Federal and state tax) lit by a match (tax: 5½c per 1,000). Aboard the train, Henry gives the conductor his ticket (price: 85c plus 13c tax), and settles down to a hand of bridge with three cronies, using of course, a deck of cards (price 40c plus 14c tax).

IN THE CITY on his way to the office, Henry stops to buy a roll of camera film (price: 20c plus 6c tax) that he promised his son (birth registration: $1), and the lipstick (price: $1 plus 22c tax) he promised his wife. Because there are friends coming to his house in the evening, he buys a bottle of whiskey (price: $2.30 plus $2.60 federal tax).

Arriving eventually at the office, Henry sighs (no tax) and settles to a day's work (annual income: $5,000; Federal income tax, $450). If he works hard for the rest of his life, he will be able to provide the government with a handsome slice of inheritance tax when he dies.

Speeding motorist grazes cop's head with bullet

Officer Kvie Stokes, of Crystal Lake, barely averted death at 11:15 Sunday night of last week while seeking to stop a car which was being driven at a high rate of speed. A bullet fired from the speeding car pierced the windshield of the police car and grazed the side of Stokes' head.

Officer Stokes picked up the speeding car on Dole ave. The driver continued at a high rate of speed south of Virginia st., and on down Dole beyond the Recreation building and up the south side of the lake on Lake ave. Failing to get the car to stop, Stokes sounded the siren at 50 feet and was answered by two shots, one going through the windshield and coming to a stop in the rear seat cushion. The other entered just above the windshield wiper and went out the rear top of the car. The bullet holes indicated the missiles were fired from a heavy revolver or a rifle. Stokes then fired back but could not tell if he hit the car.

Kilkenny Cats
In olden times, Scotch folk tried to drive out the evil spirits of cats by roasting them alive on spits. Not to be outdone, the Irish tied the tails of two cats together and threw them over a clothesline to claw each other until only the tails were left. From this pastime came the legend of the Kilkenny cats.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Unusual Dogs

Some months ago your editor mentioned that every so often he would write an article on some unusual breed of dog owned by the readers of this column.

First in the series will be today's column which will tell you something about a small breed of dog which has been growing in popularity and which although seen at dog shows in increasing numbers is not too well known.

The Schipperke which is Flemish for "Little Captain" and is properly pronounced "skeep-er-ker" is a small dog whose value to his owner has been brought forth many times.

The dog originated in the Flemish provinces of Belgium where he gained favor as a companion and also because the Belgians are a frugal people he was bred to become a rather small dog to take up little room, to be exceptionally hardy and to be the keenest and most alert of watch dogs.

THE BREED is strongly resistant to distemper, has a coat with a close undercoat which keeps them warm even in an American winter, which is far colder than their native land, and sheds water and needs very little attention beyond a good brushing once a week to keep in good shape.

To those who are interested in actually seeing the dogs a word perhaps as to where and who owns them might be in order just about now. From the standpoint of number, Pal-Ela Kennels owned by Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Markshausen located at Chicago & Ela Roads, just west of Palatine, have some of the dogs and a trip out to see them can prove quite interesting.

The dog has gained quite a reputation as a canal boat dog owned by men who have canal boats over in Belgium and who need a small dog which can warn the owner of some person coming aboard the boat other than the owner or his family.

The general appearance is very distinctive and not like other dogs. The face is small and somewhat with a foxy head, the ears stand straight up and the body is short with a thick black coat of hair. The dog does not weigh much over 18 pounds and is full of pep combined with a love of children which seems to make the breed one of the outstanding watch dogs for youngsters.

BUDGET HEARINGS

Within the next few weeks, both the consolidated school board and high school board will conduct public hearings on budgets for the current fiscal year.

These budget hearings should be better attended. If the public would get up and go, they would see where their tax dollars are going and maybe wouldn't raise such a clamor when they get the next tax bills.

The schools are really big business and levy hundreds of thousands of dollars for taxes each year.

The school levy is by far the big end of your tax bill. If you want to know what makes taxes so high, attend those coming budget hearings and see what it costs to educate your children.

The dates of those budget hearings will be advertised in the local paper well ahead of time, so you'll have ample time to arrange to attend those meetings.

It might not do any good as far as lowering your tax bill is concerned, but you'll at least know what it costs to operate the schools and where your money is actually going.

Watch for the advertisement of those budget hearings, attend the meetings and see where your tax money goes.

PROTESTS

We had a prominent attorney tell us the other day he was representing over one million dollars in valuations before the board of appeals in protested valuations.

Well, now, what will happen if all those protestors get a cut in valuation?

Simply that schools, villages, towns, counties and all other taxing bodies will find themselves seriously short of money to operate.

Then there are other thousands of payments under protest where some part of the tax rate is protested as illegal. From past experience, cash involved in protests, or a good part of the money, is withheld from taxing units until the cases are heard by the courts.

And the courts are years behind in hearing cases, which means more money is needed for the schools and other taxing bodies will be held up for years.

Schools and other taxing units, therefore, will go broke early in the year, be forced to issue anticipation warrants against next year's taxes, and have to levy more money each year to try to balance income.

Consequently, the tax rate goes up and if valuations are cut by the boards of appeals, the rates soar just that much higher. Regardless of what valuations are, the money has to be assessed against the valuations. If valuations are high, rates are low; if valuations are low, rates are high.

FOOLING THE PRESS

Palatine police department tried to put one over on the press last week when it came time to divulging the weekly meter take.

But the press was just one jump ahead and slipped at the coffee club to get the dope from one of the boys who had lost a bet on the take and knew what the figures were, $116.70.

A few minutes later, Officer Meyer was asked for the count, as he was filling a box with rolled coins for a trip to the bank.

"It's $216.70," he replied without cracking a smile. "We happen to know you're padding that figure by just $100," we told him. "We got our dope at the coffee club."

"So that's where you have your information," he replied, shaking his head.

Well, the boys will have to think up a different one to keep us off the trail of that meter take.

PARK USAGE
Grading on Palatine's new park has started and folks are hoping the park can be used by the public next year.

The popularity of parks was illustrated one night recently when eight softball teams were spread all over Recreation park in Arlington Heights going through practice sessions.

Palatine folks are also anxious for their park to get in shape. The high school field is booked to capacity for the summer.

BUSY BLACKBIRDS
Blackbirds have been busy on the lawns the past week and investigation has shown they are feasting on June bugs.

Every year just about the time black walnut trees start to leave out, June bugs start coming out of the ground. And then blackbirds go after them in earnest.

CHAIN LETTERS
Chain letters are making their appearance in the mails again, vaguely offering riches, and forecasting bad luck or disaster if the recipient breaks the chain by not keeping the letters going.

It seems that every so often there has to be an epidemic of that sort of thing.

WON'T BE LONG
The weather is still changeable and folks who have set out tomato plants say they are not growing or, even worse, disappearing.

But cheer up, warm weather is on the way. Arlington Park opens Monday, June 21, and when Arlington opens, spring is really here. When Arlington opens, we always have the finest summer weather, so look for Arlington luck to continue.

THOSE FISHERMEN
This fishing business seems to be a matter of where you are when the fish are biting.

Art Mess and Tom Norman came back from the Ozarks reporting good fishing.

The boys up in Canada are sending back boxes of fish.

But Mayor DePue and son Al, who spent several days in Wisconsin, came home empty handed, and the only fish they brought back were those on postal cards the boys sent from camp.

Even son Al, who had good luck with the muskies last year, couldn't get going. Try as he may, he couldn't show the old man how it was done.

The boys are all getting home now, so look out for those fish stories.

Locusts in Bolivia

Bolivian government has made available approximately $100,000 to its ministry of agriculture for conducting a locust campaign. An all-out effort is being made by every conceivable means including the use of poison baits with new insecticides to combat the first generation of young locusts hatched in Bolivian territory. Since last October, when invading hordes of the migratory insect swept into central and southern Bolivia, the country has been faced with as serious an insect problem as it has ever had to contend with.

Swedish courses at North Park

As a part of the Swedish Pioneer Centennial which is now being celebrated throughout the Middle West, North Park College in Chicago is conducting a summer school for Swedish studies from June 28 to August 20.

A series of lectures on Swedish life and culture by prominent scholars and educators, some of whom are visitors from Sweden to the Centennial, is also a part of the school curriculum. Students may earn eight semester hours of college credit. A folder describing the school may be had by addressing North Park College, Chicago 25, Illinois.

Extend deadline for mustering out

WW II veterans who failed to apply for mustering-out pay prior to February 3, 1946 may now make application any time before February 3, 1950. The extension of the deadline is provided for under Public Law 539 recently enacted into law.

It is estimated that several thousand Illinois WW II vets are eligible for the benefits of the Act, which provides $100 if the veterans domestic service was less than 60 days and $200 for 60 days or more. If the veteran had foreign service he is entitled to $300.

Illinois Veterans Commission service officer Walter S. Haynes of Cook county will assist any veteran to file for his mustering-out pay or with any other veteran's problem. His office is located at 41 So. Prospect ave. in Park Ridge.

gets $48 in return

The Lombard park board at a special session aimed at nailing down odds and ends from the Lilac Time season, is due to receive a surprise gift in the amount of $48 from Mrs. Earl Duber, chairman of the garden group of the Lombard Newcomers club.

To make it short, Commissioner Norman Klopp had addressed the club and incidentally mentioned that one festival expense had been buying 2,000 pansy plants, which must be removed from the big bed and given away if takers could be found.

Mrs. Duber and others of her group mulled that over and decided to do something quick. They got on the telephone and Saturday morning, by permission of the park board, conducted a pansy digging bee in the park.

By 11 o'clock they had removed all of the 2,000 plants and sold them to eager takers for cash money. The commissioners will receive all of this cash money—$48

Must comply with state law in hiring kids

Illinois employers who plan to hire school-age children during the summer vacation were advised today to seek their own and the children's best interests by complying with state and federal laws regulating the employment of child labor.

For the general guidance of employers and parents, they offered the following suggestions:

1. Advise young workers to get age certificates because under both federal and Illinois law, age certificates are considered as proof of age and protect the employer against unwitting violations. They should be kept on file at the place of employment.
2. DETERMINE the minimum ages at which employment is permitted in given jobs and occupations. Full information regarding these minimum ages under federal law may be obtained by writing or coming to the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, 1200 Merchandise Mart, and under State law by getting in touch with the Division of Women's and Children's Employment, 160 N. LaSalle street, Chicago.

"For children under 16, sweeping, cleaning up, handling material or performing any work in rooms where manufacturing or processing takes place is as illegal as actual work on the machines," O'Malley said.

The provisions of the Illinois Child Labor Law permit the employment of minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age, provided the work is not of a hazardous nature nor in violation of Section 7 of the Act.

Section 7 prohibits the employment of any minor under sixteen years of age in, about or in connection with any public messenger or delivery service, bowling alley, pool room, billiard room, skating rink, exhibition park or place of amusement, garage, filling station or service station, or as a bellboy in any hotel or rooming house or about or in connection with power-driven machinery.

THE EMPLOYER must have on file employment certificates issued by the superintendent of schools.

The hours of employment can not be for more than three hours per day on days when school is in session, and not more than eight hours per day on days when school is not in session, and then only between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m.

To observe milk day at Harvard

The seventh annual Harvard Milk Day will be held Thursday, June 10th in Harvard, Ill., "the milk center of the world," according to a bulletin issued by the Tearing Bureau of the Chicago Motor club.

An all-day event, the celebration is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock in the morning with a marching band contest. High school bands from northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin will participate in this contest. The outstanding event of the day will be the Milk Day parade featuring floats, bands, decorated vehicles, bicycles, doll buggies and an equestrian section. The Milk Queen will be crowned at noon along with her attendants.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Can you give me some expression that may be used when acknowledging an introduction, in place of the ordinary "How do you do?"

A. "This is a great pleasure," "I have been wanting to meet you for some time," "I have heard so much about you." Any of these may be used if they can be said sincerely, but the most simple and non-committal of all is, "How do you do?"

Q. What should ushers wear at a 2 o'clock wedding?

A. They should dress in the same style as the bridegroom, that is, in business suits, tuxedos, or in full evening attire.

Q. Is it always improper to cut the salad with a knife?

A. Head lettuce and some other salads often prove very difficult to cut with just the fork. In this case, don't hesitate to use the knife.

Q. Is it necessary for a bride-to-be to write notes of thanks when a shower is given in her honor and she has already thanked each one who presents her with a gift?

A. No. The verbal thanks she gives at the shower are sufficient. Genuine appreciation must be shown, and the girls must be very tactful in showing no partiality to any certain gifts, paying less attention to others.

Q. Is the prefix "Mr." ever omitted from a man's card?

A. The prefix "Mr." is omitted from his business card, but never from the card which he uses socially.

Q. May one drink soup when it is served in a bouillon cup?

A. Yes; by holding the cup by one handle.

Q. If a knife, fork or spoon is dropped while at the table, and one's hostess is serving the meal, who should pick up the dropped article?

A. The one who drops it should do so, and without displaying any embarrassment. It is not necessary to make any reference to it.

Q. If a bride's only near relative is her mother, may her mother "give her away?"

A. It is better to have a man, even if he is just a close friend of the family, perform this rite. However, the mother can do it, but in this instance the bride must walk down the aisle alone.

Q. Should a formal acceptance of an invitation be dated?

A. No. The date upon which the function is to occur must be mentioned in the acceptance.

Q. When is the proper time to send a wedding gift?

A. As soon as possible after receipt of the invitation.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: I am drawing Readjustment Allowance under the G. I. Bill and have not found suitable work. If I should seek employment in another state that offers the possibility of the type of employment that I am qualified to do, can I draw Readjustment Allowance in that state while I am seeking employment?

Answer: Yes, however, before you leave, you should notify your local employment office and tell them the reason for your leaving.

Question: I am employed now, but want a better job. Will the Illinois State Employment Service make any effort to find me another job even if I am now working?

Answer: Yes—your application card in file, showing your qualifications, bearing the notation "that you are employed but seeking other employment," will be considered in all openings available in the type of work you are qualified to do.

Question: If I am unemployed, available and willing to accept employment, and am now drawing Readjustment Allowance under the G. I. Bill, can I take advantage of a correspondence course which pays no subsistence allowance?

Answer: Yes.

Question: What is the qualifying period during World War II for American Legion membership?

Answer: To be eligible for membership in the American Legion, a veteran must have served between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, and must have received an honorable discharge.

Forest preserves offer sports, shade, nature to county vacationers

The forest preserve district, "the people's country estate," will be opened formally on Memorial day, William N. Erickson, president of the board of forest preserve commissioners, announced this week.

Although the area is open all four seasons, it has its greatest number of visitors during summer months when more than 15,000,000 visit the district.

A greater number is anticipated this year because augmented day camps will encourage greater usage by teen-agers and adult students. Under direction of Roberts Mann, superintendent of conservation, this phase has attracted thousands for the sole purpose of studying Nature.

Areas for organized picnics have been extended, and tables, baseball diamonds and athletic fields as well as shelters and deep drilled wells are ready for use.

Facilities for family groups have been increased, and choice localities have been assigned.

President Erickson said: "There is little need to travel afar for an outing. The forest preserve district with recreation facilities equal to any to be found anywhere in the country are waiting to give visitors a delightful day in the woods. There are 175 miles of hiking and riding trails, four golf courses, three swimming pools, excellent fishing, and 20,000,000 trees."

Prospect Hts. choral group concert June 10

Next Thursday evening, June 10, the Prospect Heights Choral Society stage their fourth annual concert. It's an evening of music that no resident of the community should miss—an evening of harmony, melody and song which will please the most severe critic.

The concert will be held at the Arlington Heights high school and tickets may be secured from members of the choral group or at the door, Thursday evening. The charge is but 50 cents per person.

A quick glance at the musical program to be given reveals that it is well balanced with choral numbers by the entire chorus, solos, duets and trio numbers by choral artists. The popular Roy Goetschel, who has been with the group since it was first organized, will sing a solo and also do two duet numbers with Mrs. Robert Chyrchel. Two delightful trio numbers, Little Boy Blue by Nevin and The Green Cathedral by Carl Hahn, will be sung by Mrs. Drake Older, Mrs. Robert Chyrchel and Mrs. David Talbot.

DALE GILBERT, operatic student at Northwestern University will be the guest artist, singing

He came from Colorado and is a third year student at the Northwestern University of Music where he is concentrating on operatic technique. During the war he did considerable solo work on the Pacific Coast in special service for the U.S. Navy. Among the numbers to be sung by the full chorus under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Snetzing, are: Let All My Life be Music, by Spross; So Well I Know, by Vecchi; Chance of Brahms, by Goldsworthy; Prayer, by Kountz; Russian Picnic; Madame Jeanette, by Murray; The Sleigh, by Kountz; Tradi Nuka, a Latvian frolic, by Wihol; and Country Style and Cindy.

The grand finale will be a group of selections from the ever popular "Pinafore".

RAMBLE INN

by BILL NORTH

The seniors have graduated, the underclassmen are out of school for another year, the Youth Center is closed, and social life in Arlington has settled down for its long summer sleep.

It is with sincere regret that I must announce that this is the last column on Ramble Inn 'N Outings that I will be writing for you. It has been a real pleasure passing on news and comments about Arlington students and activities, but the best must come to an end. Being a now graduated senior, it will be impossible for me to continue to write a column that will be complete and worth while. But you may be assured that some one next year will take my place.

day, May 28, at 8 p. m. at the school house, Foundry road near Wolf road.

They are Henry Kramer, Jr., Anne Wester, Olga Pershon and Richard Grenda.

Edward Simon, county superintendent of schools, will be speaker for the evening.

You know, I was looking over my files sort of thinking over all the things I had written about. Remember the first column written was on December 6, 1946. It was all about the first Y. C. roller party. Then in the next few weeks came the "Y. C. Sock Hop," the Ramble Inn election of officers, Senior Snowball, the second Roller Party, and the Lover's leap dance.

Then you surely remember the Lake Cruise, the 1947 Stork Club Jr., the Wonderful April Showers Dance, the play Spring Dance, the winning of the J. V. track conference, the coming of the Campbells as the Y. C. directors, the writing of the Y. C. constitution, the redecoration party at the Youth Center, Kick Off Dance, the Circus, the Halloween Party, SilverBall, the election of new officers, and the second grand April Showers. Yes, remember all these things. They were a lot of fun weren't they. And then you may remember that in our column we had a little section devoted to praise for the hard working supports of the Y. C. I thought you might like to have me recall for you some of the people given our White Orchids. Remember: Jean Baldwin, "Taps" Hines, Gus Ladas, Loie and Barbara Page, Mrs. Dorothy Hauff, Barbara Tichy, Fay Johnson, Jean Simmons, Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy, Miss Dorinne Peterson (now Mrs. Anderson), Wally Luettichwager, Dick Weinrich, A. H. T. H. S. Band, State Finalist in Music Department.

Also we don't want to forget one particular person. Though gone she is certainly not forgotten. I mean Mrs. Muriel Mills who was a beacon light of inspiration for the Y. C. in its first two years of operation. Thank you Mrs. Mills.

Well you see this writer has a lot of memories he can recall by just opening his file. I hope this column has brought back some for you. Maybe some of you had completely forgotten. I hope so. So this is a reluctant goodbye.

It's hard to say "goodbye." It's an empty word somehow. So why don't we part With just the words "So long for now."

This Jack Horner isn't a first-grader who doesn't know any better. Grade school children have better safety records than adults. No—this Jack Horner is you.

Never too late...

Whatever its birth date...your car will live a longer life if you regularly drain out old oil and OIL-PLATE with Conoco Nth.

And here's the reason why. The moment Nth Motor Oil (Patented) enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and all working parts are literally OIL-PLATED!

This protective OIL-PLATING stays right up there...won't all drain down to the crankcase, even with your engine idle over night! That's why Nth Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts...from metal-eating combustion acids...from sludge and carbon due to wear!

So, for full-time protection...for more miles per quart, make a date now...

...to OIL-PLATE!

Weeds don't make milk

A cow is a hard-to-please animal. They prefer grass to weeds.
Weeds are left to make seed for more weeds.

Perhaps from 10% to 20% of most pastures are weeds. Often they are in patches and can be knocked down with a mower about twice in a season before seed are formed. Two years of this will usually get rid of most

LAW on the FARM

Estates. By legal definition an estate is "the interest which anyone has in lands, or in any other subject of property." This interest may vary from absolute ownership (a fee simple) down to mere possession. By common usage, however, the term "estate" means to the average person the land and other property of a deceased owner prior to the completion of administration proceedings, or land held undivided by the heirs of a deceased owner.
This latter type of estate frequently presents serious farm management problems. It is often difficult for heirs to agree on how they shall rent the land, what improvements they shall make and generally how they shall function as landlords. Usually in such circumstances it is good business to put the farm under the supervision of a competent hired manager.

WHEN ONE of the heirs remains on the farm and operates it as a tenant, questions frequently arise as to what interest each heir should have and what expenses each should bear. Assuming that there are five heirs, the one operating the farm should get the tenant's share and also one-fifth of the landlord's share. In return for his landlord's share he should bear one-fifth of the expense of improvement to the real estate, one-fifth of the taxes and one-fifth of all other landlord expenses.

Owing to legal complications which may arise when several persons are common owners ("tenants in common") of a farm, especially when one or more of them die leaving several children or the children of deceased children, it is frequently desirable to make a settlement and transfer the title to one heir or sell the farm to an outside party.

IN 1939 THE Illinois legislature consolidated most of the law on administration of estates into the "Probate Act." This act specifies the manner in which estates are to be settled. When a will is left it must be presented for probate by the person having it in his possession. Letters testamentary are then issued to the executor named in the will, or to another in accordance with provisions of the law. When there is no will the person appointed by the court is known as an administrator. When both testate (included in a will) and intestate property are involved, the court may issue letters to an administrator with the will an-nexed. In all cases, an executor and administrator are charged by law with the preservation and management of the estate during administration, the collection and payment of debts and with making a final accounting and settlement. There are many other specific duties prescribed by law.

Weeds and grass will come in instead.
Or if you are a 2-4, D enthusiast this is about the safest place to try it out. It will not poison the stock nor hurt grass much.
But use it before seed form. Used twice for two years thistles can be killed also.
Keep weeds out of pastures as you keep weeds out of corn and for the same reasons.

Free milk—it would still cost a dime

Chicago, May 25—Milk would cost you a dime a quart in Illinois if farmers gave it away, according to figures compiled by Judson P. Mason, director of dairy marketing for the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The average price of home delivered milk today is about 20 cents per quart in 13 Illinois markets. So about half of the cost of that bottle of milk set at your doorstep this morning went for receiving, processing, bottling, storing, and selling.

If farmers gave milk away in Chicago it would still cost you 11 cents a quart. Lowest distribution costs were at Moline where milk would cost 7.4 cents.

Here is what the consumer would pay for milk in other areas of Illinois based on March prices if the farmer gave it away: Bloomington, 11.4; Freeport, 10.5; St. Louis, 10.5; Springfield, 10.4; Rockford, 10.3; Decatur, 10.2; Champaign, 10; Jacksonville, 9.9; Peoria, 9.6; Quincy, 9.6; Danville, 9.0.

about people. I have tried to understand them. I learned early enough how people act, but in my youth I never knew why. When others mistreated me, I thought they were just mean. I did not think of their troubles or sicknesses, least of all of my own unsocial acts. When they sinned or committed a crime and were punished I thought they deserved it, not that their experiences in life had conditioned their attitudes and their actions.

Next, I would want to think straight. I would want to be taught to be unprejudiced and fair when I had decisions to make. To put from me childish self pity and unwarranted self praise, and to face reality rather than to live in an atmosphere of ideas in my early teens or before.

I would insist on knowing how to dispel useless fear and juvenile emotions of jealousy, envy, hatred and despair.

How to memorize by association, comparison, attention, repetition and understanding would be a must while I was still in the grades. How to apply what I learned would be an important part of every course.

I would acquire etiquette, grace, poise, friendliness, firmness of character through study and the choice of my instructors.

I would learn more about religion, my country, the world, and how to be a good citizen.

I would want to study the things I was talented in from the very beginning, to learn unbiased history, to learn art appreciation, music, meditation and honest self analysis.

I would acquire a love of truth and goodness because they are good and true in themselves, and not because I would be punished here or hereafter if I transgressed.

Knowing these things, I could acquire the facts and figures on a routine education with greater ease and benefit to myself.

Association President William Kelley, Chicago attorney, said that Colonel Willingham will speak at the annual banquet which will be on the night of June 5th.

Bed-wetting

Doctor Ward's Notebook

"Junior is starting to school this year and he still wets his bed! We've tried everything. What are we going to do, doctor?" How often a harassed physician hears this complaint by over-protective and misunderstanding parents. If he has a good deal of experience with this sort of a child, he will immediately recognize that he has a big problem on his hands; a problem which is a symptom of a deeper, more fundamental psychologic disorder involving not only the child but his entire environment.

A NORMAL, HEALTHY CHILD, if given a chance, will assume responsibility for his toilet habits during the second year. It may be stated with a good deal of certainty that children will stop wetting when they learn that sleeping in a wet bed is far less comfortable than sleeping in a dry one. Thus, going to the toilet becomes an enjoyable and satisfying event.

In addition, everyone recognizes that children will do more for praise and reward than for any other reason, just as grown-ups will. They will do things to please persons whom they like and toward whom they have no feeling of fear or resentment. Scolding and punishing a child when he has slipped in his control will do little to keep his bed dry; praise when he performs satisfactorily will.

IF A CHILD HAS NOT DEVELOPED proper toilet habits by the age of three, he should be considered a behavior problem. This inability to put aside infantile habits means that growing up—maturating emotionally—has been too much of a task for him. This problem calls for investigation of his entire emotional background in order to uncover factors which may lead to later, more serious behavior problems.

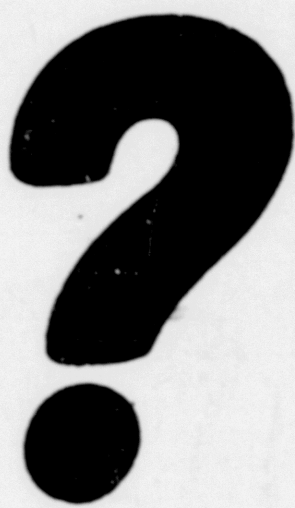

SINCE CHILDREN UNCONSCIOUSLY mimic their parents, their reactions are a reflection of the emotional pattern at home. If emotional instability and lack of self-reliance are important items in the personalities of the parents, these traits will in all likelihood be developed in the child. As a result he is incapable of meeting the demands which growing up and becoming a well adjusted person requires. Fear and resentment of the parent are more than likely to result in behavior problems—of which bed wetting is only one—on the part of the child.

Very often continuance of bed-wetting is an open expression of a child's resistance to parental domination. This reversion to infantile habits becomes a method by which he may fight back against these hostile attitudes. Many times a child will suddenly begin wetting after years of perfect control when he finds himself in trouble with teachers, parents, or others in authority. Intense fear is frequently the forerunner of a spell of enuresis. In the Armed Services this symptom has been noted among many young men who are unable to adjust to the discipline of regimentation. Again, this is a subconscious reaction which expressed their resentment.

The foregoing should make it clear that enuresis is usually an outward manifestation of a strong fear, deep resentment, or inner emotional conflict. A solution of these fundamental problems in adjustment is necessary before satisfactory treatment of the bed-wetting symptom can be accomplished. This requires diligent, tactful handling by a physician well aware of human failings and inadequacies.

Your weekly treat recipe

Chicken can be a glorious taste treat when it is fresh and prepared with finesse. Using an onion, a carrot and a stalk of celery for flavor, why not try chicken in casserole next weekend. Choose your chicken carefully, select the best vegetables, use this weeks recipe, and results will be obtained. You may brag on this one!

Chicken in Casserole
1-5 to 6 lb. stewing chicken
1-small onion
1-carrot
1-stalk celery
Method: Clean chicken and cut up as for frying. Drop pieces into boiling salted water and add the onion, carrot and celery. Cook until chicken is tender. Remove chicken from broth. Strain broth into pot. Make lots of gravy with flour, milk and broth.

Cut up chicken in pieces (not as fine as for salad). Toast ten slices of bread—very dry—and break into small pieces. Butter a casserole and place alternate layers of chicken, toast and gravy into the casserole. Bake 45 minutes at 375 degrees. Yield: 12 servings.
